“ Hi Ingrid and family,

My condolences for the loss of your husband and father/grandfather. I loved him very much all my life. Although we did not communicate much these last few years, I have very good memories of wonderful conversations together, speaking from heart to heart, and in the knowledge of his faith in Jesus Christ and his own salvation. That to me was always the most important thing to talk about, outside of sharing common memories, or getting info on the life situations we both experienced throughout our lives. The times that Peter came to visit me are etched in my memory and I will always feel the common connection we've had. Now I am looking forward to meeting in the life here after, which is the real life to come. Hallelujah! Victory in Jesus, our Savior and our Lord. He did it all for us!

Unfortunately I could not come to visit him in these difficult times, nor will I be able to be at his funeral. I am praying for strength in these difficult days. Peter will be greatly missed by all of you, and all of us, I am sure. I will be with you in thought from now on, and especially on the day of his memorial service. I hope that all be go well.
God bless you all,
Sincerely,
Hanny, Alex and Lesley

“ It was our pleasure, to share with Peter and his great family, visits together in California, sitting in the sun (Peter loving it all year round), boarding the tour bus in San Francisco, and exploring those giant trees that grow there! Peter and Ingrid eventually ended up in South Carolina, sharing the same subdivision with his daughter, Crystal, husband C.J. and their 4 children. He told me time and again how SWEET they were, always affectionate, as well as FACE -timing with the Curtis, family, and Heaton and family; who lived out West. We have fond memories of attending the Presbyterian Church in Summerville where Peter enjoyed the organ playing very much. Marinus shared with Peter (the last visit), working on his metal lathe where it was his last ambition to produce a memorabilia for the children (dice). It gladdened my heart to see his enthusiasm. Sadly, it was after this encounter, that Peter had difficulty with mobility and became bedridden. Obvious to me, was Ingrid's continuous optimism regarding his condition. She always embodied, hope, another option, or other modes of treatment that would be beneficial. Never did she give up. She was an inspiration to many around her including myself.

Oh Peter, we will all miss you so much.

Our families in Canada have shared your inspirational thoughts, have appreciated your input, and humour most of all. It was an arduous journey these past 8 years. So many challenges to overcome, and so brave through it all.

Marinus and I send our heartfelt condolences to Ingrid, all the children and grandchildren and others we may have missed.

May you truly rest in peace now, never to be forgotten by all those whom you have touched one way or another.

Our hope is in Christ.

Until we meet again, rest in peace my DEAR one.
