“ Me and Alicia grew up together. She wasn't just my best friend she was my sister.. hell my dad used to joke he was gonna claim her on taxes cause she practically lived at our house especially during the summer!! I can remember turning my whole house in "our barbie world" we played for hours and did almost everything together. Our lives took different path once we grew up but no matter how different our paths were we stayed friends. She would come to my house for a few days or weeks and hang out w me and my boys and her and my youngest would take goofy pics and play outside. and her and my youngest both shared a love of drawing so they would draw for hrs.. she was family to us. And I'm gonna miss her just as if I'd lost a sister. I love you Alicia!! And I know you are watching over all of us now.

“ I haven't seen Alicia in quite a while, but I remember when her and Roland were real little and me, Sherry and Bernadine were over at Kenny's and Bonnie's house and I wanted to pick up Roland and give him a kiss or hug something like that and she would not let me touch him, she said that's my brother and you're not going to pick him up, she was so protective over him. I heard a lot of good things over the years about her and also seen post of Facebook, she was a beautiful girl, loved to change her hair to all kinds of different things and ways. Lol Aunt Shirley sure did love her, now y'all are together once again, I bet Aunt Shirley up there trying to scare the hell out of you, tell her I said Hello. Now you're free from everything bad and hard and hurtful. R.I.P Alicia Ann Ward

Even though you are gone away, your love remains on earth to stay, touching many hearts in so many ways.

Memories will be forever cherished. Rest, my dear cousin, with peace of mind, your memories will live on through us all.

“ Some people come into this world and leave footprints on every heart they touch. Alicia was one of those rare souls — kind, genuine, and full of a light that made others feel seen and loved. Her laughter, her strength, and her warmth will never be forgotten. Though she may no longer be here in the way we wish, her spirit lives on in the memories we carry, the love she gave, and the lives she changed just by being herself.

Rest peacefully, Alicia. You were deeply loved, and you always will be. Until we meet again Beautiful

“ She was first born. I watched her take her first breath walk her first step. She was the only girl out of the my children seven children. She is the fourth one to leave this earth without me. It would take a book to tell all the joyful moments I got to share with here. She is loved and will be missed by many. Rest in peace "DOODLE"
