Bambi and I became sisters about when she was about 11 and I was 13. We became close. She always was interested in me and what was going on. She was there for me when I had my first real boyfriend and encouraged me on and gave me feed back. She was there for my secrets. Especially when I started smoking and would have her smell my clothes to make sure they didn't smell like smoke. She was a true sister/friend. As we got older and lived apart, we always called each other and vented about this or that. I will miss her, dearly. She is at peace, I know it. She is not suffering anymore. My love and hugs go to her family. Love you, Linda.

“ My sincerest condolences to all family, friends, co-workers, etc. I had the pleasure of working with Bambi for a number of years. She was a joy to be around and an extremely dedicated person. Plenty of days she brightened the office with her smile and the admiration she shared when talking about her family and dogs. I can recall many of late evenings telling her to logoff and go home. We would joke that the work would be waiting on us in the morning. Even after she retired, she would call back and remind me it was time for month end processes. One of my fondest memories is when one year for Halloween she dressed as Bambi the deer. It was so cute. See below for picture. My thoughts and prayers are with the family!

“ My heart goes out to the entire family. I am so sorry for your loss. Our work conversations revolved around family and family was what Bambi treasured. Through all her woes, she kept a smile, and we always found a reason to laugh when sometimes I knew, at times, it was everything she could do to keep from crying. May you all find peace in knowing that all her pain is gone and there's nothing keeping her from smiling. For everyone else who might run across this message, I hope you find the time to have a good conversation with someone in your life who you haven't talked to in a while and are wondering how they're doing. I haven't spoken to Bambi since September and just assumed she was doing better...I'm thankful for that last conversation. It was nothing short of letting her know that I was praying for her to get better and that I wanted her healthy so that she could enjoy her pool again and retirement. Love makes the world go around in endless capacities, I love that I had the opportunity to meet and work with Bambi and all the laughter we shared.
