“ When I think of Betty, the first things that come to mind are her smile and laughter and how she'd call me "Love". I always felt at home in her home. I liked to look at her treasure trove of items from older days and see what new fabulous thing she had found or done in her dollhouse.

I remember once I decided to do a stitching craft, called candlewicking, and I asked Betty to help me make it into a pillow for my mom. I thought we'd whip out the project in an hour, tops. Who knew measuring, sewing and gathering a ruffle would take forever and three days? Well, Betty did, of course, being a superb seamstress (I always coveted Karen's sundresses). I remember feeling badly about taking up the better part of her day though she was nothing but pleasant, precise, loving and giving until we (me, 10%, she, 90%) turned out a beautiful pillow. She was so easy to talk to, full of common sense and wisdom, and I was happy in her company.

“ Mrs. Betty was a true gem of a person! She was always there with a smile, a hug and an encouraging word! Mrs. Betty you are missed, but we rejoice that you are singing and dancing in the arms of Jesus, and right behind him is Mr Jake, and you will be waiting for Mr. Edward. Love and hugs, Jen and David Carter
