“ As Hans Christian Andersen said: A human life is a story told by God.. Mr Ray's story was a great one. He touched so many lives. My heart aches at the loss of such a wonderful man. He was a cherished husband, father, friend, and second dad to all of us who were lucky enough to grow up on our street. I will miss seeing his face, but his story will continue through the lives of those he touched. Much love and prayers for peace to Ms. Vadene, Emily and Sara. I am here for you always.

“ Some of my fondest memories as a child was spent at the Echols home. We lived on the same street and grew up right along side his daughters. I spent many a days at their house. I remember Ray was always tinkering with something and I enjoyed tinkering right along with him. He was like a second father to me. He will be greatly missed and always adored in my eyes.

“ I saw this accident happen and was broken hearted when I saw what seems to be a wonderful man being transported to the ambulance. I instantly felt such sorrow when I saw him. I can't begin to fathom how his family and friends must feel. I prayed he would open his eyes to see the light of day, but now I pray he is resting in eternal peace and that his family will find understanding and solitude in such an unfair situation. You will all be in my thoughts and prayers.
