“ I am fortunate to have met the Coluccis in their home, feasting on Mrs. Colucci's hearty cooking, listening to Mr. Colucci's stories, and seeing two brothers play around. I value that brief night and the love of family I was able to witness. For the Colucci Family, you are heavily on my mind and in my heart. Continued prayers shall strengthen your spirit.

*In grace,
Heather Griffin*

I will miss bringing the girls in to see you and Ivo at the store. I always loved how you were so transparent in our conversations about life, family and of course...our never-ending back issues. I pray that you rest in peace and comfort of the Lord.

“ Our deepest condolences to all the Colucci family. We will miss Doris greatly and thank her for so many wonderful memories--the great winter vacations in the Keys, first in the trailer, then the condo, then the first home on the canal and finally at the great Key West Palace on Ramrod Key. Your many birthday dinner celebrations in the keys, those wonderful Lobster Rubin sandwiches at that dinky fish joint, closing down that All-You-Can -Eat stone crab joint, raising hell on Duval Street, Ivo with his green hair, shopping at "if K-Mart don't have it, you don't need it." Cruising the Caribbean, negotiating and dealing with the jewelry sales people in Mexico, arguing with that "big Bouncer at Senior Frog in Cancun to get you a free, ugly $2 tee shirt that said Senior Frog, Cancun. Ivo teaching me to speak Mexican with an Italian accent. So many great times, the four of us on a world class vacation to China and Singapore, Ivo and Annie climbing to the top of The Great China Wall, Dick and Doris made it half way before knees and back directed how far we could climb. Always negotiating for something; a silk rug, a marble dining room table, knock off any thing at the Chinese market, antiques, jewelry, it made no difference, just the fun of negotiating and making a deal. Using each other as sounding boards, sharing in the trials and tribulations of families, offering comfort to one another when needed. Real friendship for nearly 40 years. We will miss all that. We will remember only the good times. Dick and Annie Knight

“ Doris, I can't believe what happened, and that you are no longer here. My heart is beyond heavy. We shared so many memories in our lives, the good and the bad. Love to the family. May your relationship with the Lord sustain you. Rest in peace, Doris. Love you....your cousin, Felice
