“ Doug was a fraternity borther ofmine at ONU. He was great guy. I remember him being so strong and so smart. He helped everyone at chemistry. We had so much fun in college and as a group we were so close. It was great to see Doug about a year ago on a zoom call with about 15 of us. Even though everyone has gone there seperate ways and it has been 40 years the bond is close. RIP our friend. So sorry for his family

“ Oh Arden, where to even begin. I met Arden almost 4 years ago and he very quickly became my right hand man at the Blake. He was so overly kind to all residents and to myself. I will truly miss his witty jokes, or fun facts. How he always beat everyone in trivia because he was honestly the smartest man I ever knew. How he was always down for whatever wacky activities I came up with. Most importantly how he was a friend to me. You were so loved by everyone here at the Blake. The Blake shines brighter because of the impact he made!

Doug, where do I begin. You helped me pass chemistry in high school. I can't remember how many times we walked around the block and you would make me repeat so much of the periodic table. You taught me how to drive a little yellow stick shift Volkswagen you were truly an amazing person and teacher. You will be deeply missed.

“ My nephew, Douglas Conley, was a slow talking, gentle giant, who could slouch on a stool with cane in hand and recount a humorous story.

He seemed to take his time digesting your questions and responding.

Douglas survived many physical setbacks and persevered to continue working around the world in his chemistry field.

I was very proud of his Conley constitution. His history has inspired me to remind my doctors and family , "Don't give up on me, a Conley is hard to kill."

“ I have so many great memories of Arden but the one I remember mostly is him helping me with my schoolwork! He was so patient with me and very helpful! He will truly be missed!
