“ Aunt Flossie was one of a kind. She would always bring laughter to any room. I remember when she taught us all about ceramics. She said to me make sure you clean everything when your are done in warm water. So one day I cleaned the glass bowel in hot water but hurried up and turned it on cold and then the glass bowel broke and it sliced my finger almost off and She said now I need to take you to the navy base hospital and god knows how they are going to fix it. But she did her best by making me laugh to forget about my finger hanging off. And it worked. You will be missed dearly but never forgotten. Love ya Aunt Flossie
