When not working or traveling, he spent quality time with his wife and pets while pursuing his passion for roller derby and art. Above all, Fredrick was a true people person who deeply loved his family and friends.

“ I met Fredrick on a cruise with friends, and fell in love with him instantly. He was so quirky, funny and genuine. I was immediately drawn to him. I later introduced him to my best friend Pam, and they fell in love and got married. She moved to Charleston to be with him. Unfortunately, they didn't get the time together that I wish they could have, but Pam and all who knew Fredrick will forever be changed for knowing him. Fred, you can't lose! ❤️
