“ My wife and I have been neighbors and close friends with Jr. for the past several years. We will cherish the fond memories of his funny stories and close friendship. Every day after work, he would love to give our doggies treats over the backyard fence. We knew when Jr. and Nate were home because our dogs would bark like crazy wanting to be let out in the back yard for "treat time". You could see in Jr.'s eyes how much he loved making our dogs happy, and it was a wonderful reminder that it is the simple things in life that make life special. We will miss him dearly and our prayers and thoughts are with his family.
