“ I can't say that I knew Eileen as well as I'd liked to; but it was obvious to anybody that she was a bright and ambitious mind who inspired others - myself certainly included - and never let a new or difficult task get in the way of her perseverance. Without a doubt, she has been immortalized in the minds of those who looked up to her for these admirable traits, and dearly missed by all.

Blood and Honor, Eileen. You deserved better than this.

Eileen, words can not express the deep sorrow that encompasses our family since your passing. We thank our Lord for the true gift that your life has meant to us and most especially to our son, William. You are a rare beauty and a unique soul that the Lord gifted in so many ways. You shall always remain in our hearts and a special part of our family. I can hear your beautiful Celtic bell-like voice singing in our home and hear your joyful laughter ringing through our walls. We shall always cherish your time with our family. We send deepest condolences to your Daddy, Doug and your Momma, Missy. I am thankful for your last week, which was precious but all too brief. I thank your parents for sharing those last days with us and allowing us to be with you whilst we all awaited your healing that only the Lord could provide. I know that he welcomed you into his arms of comfort, healing and perfect grace.
Love always, Lisa and Kent Dixon
