“ I extend condolences to Olga and family on the tremendous loss of your husband, father, brother, grandfather, uncle and other relatives.

Debra and Freddie Shelton on Carolina Wren Avenue have lived here since 1984. I served with Jim on the Homeowners Association, Jim as President and I was V.P.. Jim was direct and always about business with the three neighborhoods that was in his charge. He wouldn't ask you to take on any task that he wasn't willing to take on himself. He made sure that the tasks and duties assigned which would improve the neighborhood was always safe and seen to completion.

We walked the neighborhoods here at Tranquil Estates, Oak Mount and even on Parlor Road/Drive...near Walmart on Dorchester Road. He lead and assisted all who was on board to make the necessary improvements throughout the communities. Jim was direct and a straight talker, but it was with grace and a smile.

It was a pleasure to work along side Jim; he will be missed. We are all better for having been in his presence.

May he be at peace in God's Love.

Olga, Freddie and I would like to stop by after some time has passed.

Debra and Freddie!

He had a great man, a man of a kind man. James Cornelius McCullough was born in the Bronx, NY. Jim was an avid reader, a thoughtful, compassionate and charitable man who also enjoyed bringing out the best in others. He was a practical joker who could make you laugh with a certain bit of mischief when no one was looking. His favorite color was blue. Jim and Olga shared a beautiful 51 years of life together and when you heard the echo of his voice at home singing from a book, you were in a different way and did not think twice inside and out, independent, the man we all looked up to, no matter how small. He was our greatest joy. He will be deeply and truly miss

“ I am so sorry Olga and family for this heartbreaking news. Jim was such a kind, genuine person. I will always remember his visits to Bubba Slye's where he was "the bread man". He always had a smile and loved to hang out and just talk! He was loved by our whole staff and will be greatly missed! Rest in Peace Jim
