“ As I get older I come to the realization that there are going to be people that have an impact somehow on my life. There will be family, friends and co-workers that will play this part and even an occasional stranger. I often wonder why God has placed me in their lives or why they have been placed in mine and sometimes I can guess why but often I do not know. I look back and see a friendship of kindness, craziness, love, sharing and thoughtfulness. These were all the things Janet was to me. When I was in need she provided when I was down she would invite me to have lunch with her. I look back and realize that a time in my life Janet and I had a special relationship that was meant to be which I became known as her adopted son. She helped me many times and I am very thankful for her. I never got the chance to actually tell her how much I appreciated the kindness she showed me. I am sure I said thank you at the time but I always had a feeling in me that I needed to tell her again in the way that would make her so happy just to know it really counted. I received the phone call at work and did not feel anything for a while until I sat down. I hear it all the time, just make the call or just tell them before it's too late. I didn't get the chance to tell her so I will say it now; Mother, I just want you to know that even though we haven't spoken to each other in a long time, It's been on my mind for a while now, I just wanted to tell you that I really and truly appreciated everything you had done for me. I am happy you were a part of my life and you do not have to worry anymore because I will be ok, you are part of who I am today and I will always be thankful for you, thank you and love you. I am ok today because I believe that she now knows my heart and I believe her spirit can feel my thankfulness. John, Thad, Kelly, Larry and the rest of family, she will be missed and never forgotten because as crazy as it has been her journey in this life has touched each of us in a very special way. May you rest in peace and bring us a rainbow every now and then to let us know you're watching over us Love always your adopted son Charlie.
