

Jennie M. Butler

April 10, 1984 - December 6, 2024

Jennie Marie Butler, 40, of Summerville, the beloved wife of James Travis Butler, was called home on December 6, 2024, to be with her Lord and Savior surrounded by her family after a courageous battle with cancer.

Born in Hyannis, MA, on April 10, 1984, to Jean Marie Fogarty and John H. Gilmore. Jennie grew up in Summerville, SC. She was a graduate of Summerville High School and the College of Charleston.

Jennie was a devoted wife, mother, daughter, sister, and aunt. She treasured her time with her family. She had a deep love for the waterways of the Lowcountry, cherishing peaceful moments on the water surrounded by its natural beauty. One of her greatest joys was listening to the love of her life, Travis, play the guitar and sing to her – a simple yet profound expression of their enduring bond.

She was a friend and confidant to many, always ready to listen with an open heart. She had a special gift of making anyone in her presence feel special and welcome. A graceful warrior, she faced each day with resilience and hope, inspiring all who knew her.

Jennie dedicated her career to health prevention and awareness, serving passionately at Molina Healthcare of South Carolina. Her commitment to helping others extended far beyond her professional work. She was deeply involved in her community, supporting various charitable efforts throughout her life. Jennie was especially devoted to supporting The Boon Project for Young Adults Fighting Cancer and Anchored by Faith Cancer Foundation. In March 2024, she was honored as the Courage Award recipient and survivor speaker at the 7th Annual Boon Project Gala, where she shared her inspiring story and unwavering spirit.

Jennie was a steadfast believer in Jesus Christ, drawing strength and comfort from her faith throughout her life. Her unwavering trust in God's plan was an inspiration to all who knew her, and she often spoke of the peace she found in His promises. Her life was a testament to grace, love, and perseverance. She leaves behind a legacy of faith that will continue to guide and encourage her family and friends. We find comfort in knowing she is now at peace, held in the loving arms of the Savior she faithfully trusted.

Jennie is survived by her two beloved children, Emma Faye Butler and Tristan James Butler, who were the light of her life and her deepest source of happiness. Being their mother was her most profound gift. She poured her heart into raising them with love, instilling in them the values of kindness, faith, and resilience. Her legacy lives on in Emma and Tristan.

In addition to Travis and her children, she is survived by a supportive family: her parents Jean Marie Gilmore (Fogarty) and Jack Gilmore; her sisters, Kelly Willis, Jackie Salire, and Katie Hudgins; her grandmother, Jean Fogarty; and many aunts, uncles, nieces, and nephews. She is also survived by her mother-in-law and father-in-law, Cindy and Mike Painter, and grandparents, Sybil and Tommy Painter.

Jennie was preceded in death by her maternal grandfather, William James Fogarty; her paternal grandparents, Jean and Herbert Gilmore; and her mother-in-law Brenda Faye Painter.

Jennie's radiant smile will continue to live on in our hearts, shining brightly forever.

“ I'm so terribly sorry for your families loss. I remember carrying Jennie as a new born to my parent's house. She was a special child and a beautiful woman. It's so evident in all the these beautiful pictures. She's angel now who isn't sick or suffering any longer. My heart and prayers are with you all. Best, Michelle Steele (Coutu)
