“ You left a legacy of Love servant hood and an amazing laughter everywhere you went with everyone you met and we will all miss you but your greatest legacy is the love for your children and grand children they are the ones who will experience the greatest pain from your going home so as you would have done we will left them up in prayer and be there for them as you have for all of us in our time of need. Go rest high my brother till we all see each other again.

One of the kindest and most humble man I have had the pleasure of knowing. Always the same no matter if he saw you yesterday or 6 months ago. He was always smiling and so friendly to Phillip, treated him like they were best friends. All who knew him were very blessed and I am thankful that I got to be a part of that blessing. You will be missed.
