

Lynn Elizabeth Diehl

January 31, 1977 - December 28, 2025

Lynn Elizabeth Diehl was born January 31, 1977, in Washington, D.C., and passed away on December 28, 2025 from complications of Marfan Syndrome, in North Charleston, SC. She was the beloved daughter of Noah Fagley and Imogene “Sunny” Combs.

Lynn earned her Bachelor of Arts degree from Villa Julie College in Stevenson, Maryland. Lynn was a gifted graphic designer and operated her business, Printgraphix, for many years but was currently employed as an insurance agent with Sheally Insurance Company. Art and music were at the heart of Lynn’s life. She found joy in adventures with her son, searching for waterfalls, cooking, and creative expression of all kinds. She was always willing to help friends and family in need, especially with a home cooked meal.

Above all, Lynn will be remembered for her kind spirit, artistic soul, and the genuine care she showed to family, friends, and everyone fortunate enough to know her.

She is survived by her loving son Benjamin Diehl; mother Imogene “Sunny” Combs (Richard); sister Laura Norton (Benji) and niece Allie; sister Lydia Combs; and Uncle Richard Stockslager (Tammy). A celebration of life will be held at a later date in her hometown of Ijamsville, MD. In lieu of flowers donations may be made to First Baptist Church of Green Valley, MD or the Marfan's Foundation.

“ My deepest sympathies to all who love Lynn but most especially, to the most important person in her life, her son Ben. I’m so grateful to be a friend of Lynn’s. We connected on so many levels, but most recently we found mutual support as we faced our ongoing medical battles. I wish I had hugged her just a little longer when we celebrated Christmas Eve together. Love you forever, my friend.

“ My fondness memories of Lynn were at church and church camp. She played God in Noah vacation Bible school. At church camp she played basketball starting center. Help win us 2 consecutive championship in a row. Most of she was and always will one of favorite friends. Love you always Lynn. Rick Dabbondanza.
