“ My family met "Auntie Martha" in Panama back in 1982. As a new mom and a military wife, Martha was instrumental in providing guidance that to this day I carry in my heart. My oldest son, Gieorag was born in Panama before Thanksgiving Day in 1982. Martha was loving, caring, helpful and handled things with a sense of humor that set her apart. We loved to go listen to country music on the weekends that our husbands were off work. We always had a fun time, and I learned a lot about the American culture and customs from her. The only challenge Martha presented for me was her southern "accent." There were times when I didn't really understand what she was saying (English is my second language) but I just would nod as though I knew. Fast forward to now, 43 years later... we stayed in touch via texting on a weekly basis. I will always cherish the memories and her unconditional love for our eldest son. Rest in Peace dear friend. Until we meet again,
Love, Ana & Pat

“ I didn't know her. But she gave birth to one of my best friends. That makes her alright by me.
