She enjoyed traveling to numerous islands in the Caribbean, South America and Europe. Her favorite place to visit as an art teacher was the world's largest art

“ I enjoyed knowing Beth through our art teacher meetings and in-services in Dorchester 2. She was a wonderful person and teacher! I remember the first time I ever met her, at either the open house or first PTA meeting of the school year. She was asking how Stephen was doing in my class ,which I had once a week for 40 minutes. I was so embarrassed not to know who he was, out of the 600 children there that I had just started to work with. She immediately whipped out her wallet and began to show me picture of him, so I knew she was a proud Mama and dearly loved her family. The last time I saw her, she was telling me about her beautiful grandchildren. I'm very sorry for your loss. I know it's never easy to let go.
Sincerely, Joanna King
