“ Robert was always willing to help with our model club events. He would bring his boat to the club float-fly's and retrieve airplanes from the water, a great help for those who needed it.

“ Robert was true friend. I met him at the local Radio Control model airplane club. They took me in and taught me how to fly...Jack Jessup was my first instructor and Robert took over...Robert was a great friend and flying buddy...Always willing to help anyone when asked. He always had a positive attitude but the wonderful thing about him was...you always knew he was willing and able to help with any concerns, teaching and explaining the correct way to do repairs explained the rules of the club and teach flying professionally.

Robert was kind and considerate of everyone. Always there and was an inspiration to all that knew him.

He will forever be missed personally and every time I fly I'll hear Robert saying, Now Ya Got It....I am absolutely heart broken but, Robert knew he was cherished by all who really knew him...He is now flying with the angels...Love and Miss you my long time friend...Time to enjoy the next life....Your Friend, Ken Becker

“ Robert was a great friend. I moved here in 2013 and joined Carolina Fun Flyers. Robert taught me how to fly. He was so patient with me and made sure I had everything I needed to pass. Because of Robert I love to fly. I loved to watch him fly, he was so good at it. I have been away for a while and wish I had my friend to help me get back into it. I will miss him very much.
