

Rochelle Montague Causey

January 11, 1935 - June 29, 2014

Florence Rochelle Montague Causey of Summerville died June 29, 2014, in Charleston of complications following surgery.

She was born in Belton on Jan. 11, 1935, to the late W.P. and Rachel Deanhardt Montague.

Ms. Causey attended Belton High School and was graduated from Central High School in Charlotte NC and earned certificates as an x-ray technician at Charlotte Memorial Hospital and as a certified medical office assistant at Charlotte Piedmont Community College. She worked at Memorial and the Conway Hospital for several years and in the office of Dr. Charles Chrysler in Charlotte for over 20 years. Upon retirement Ms. Causey moved to Calabash NC and then to Summerville.

Her marriage to the late Kemp M. Causey ended in divorce. She is survived by their daughters, Joy E. Causey of Hanahan and Sally P. Bloom, her husband, Ben Bloom, and their children, Jackson, Spencer, Susannah, and Annabel Bloom, all of Raleigh NC, her sister, Joanne Montague of Greenville, and her aunts, Doris Thompson (Mrs. Walter) of Savannah GA and Edna Fleming (Mrs. Andrew) of Donalds. Ms. Causey will be remembered as a beloved, caring mother, grandmother, and sister. She was an excellent homemaker, an avid reader, and the lover of a long procession of dogs, particularly her last one, Boo.

The family would like to thank the staff of Life Care Center of Charleston for their excellent care. Family and friends will gather for a memorial service July 5, at 5:00 pm at Azalea Park Gazebo (dress casual; bring a chair, Magnolia Street entrance). The family suggests that those making memorial gifts consider the SPCA of Dorchester County or the American Diabetes Association.
