“ I was quite young when my brother Bernard married Ginny. Not long after came Terry, then Boo Boo. I always marveled at what a wonderful mother she was to them. (Sorry, Cheryll, but you were not in the picture, having been born later in England.) I don't remember where Bernard was stationed at the time, but Ginny came home to family while he was overseas. When a person is in the military, the whole family is in the military and they have to make sacrifices and Ginny made the best of it being the wonderful wife and mother she was. And, later, hearing family tales about their time in Spain, the activities she did with all three (Cheryll was a part of the family by this time). She shared her love of adventure/travel when we had a "girls" trip to Italy – Ginny, (my nieces) Terry, Jennifer & Lisa, and sister Geneva. We made wonderful memories, the small taxi ride from the catacombs back to Rome. Six of us plus the driver in this tiny (I mean real tiny) station wagon, sitting on each other's lap, the Bellinis. She is now reunited with her soul mate, Tom and is now on to their next adventure.

Shelia*

“ Aunt Ginny was one of the people that influenced my enjoyment of history and traveling. My first international trip was when I was 10 and we went to visit Ginny and my cousins in Spain. When I got there, she handed me a spiral notebook and told me to keep a journal. For someone who does not like to write, I did keep that journal. I wish I still had it. Aunt Ginny made that trip very memorable. Due to that journal, I remember a lot of details of that trip to this day. Then 45 years later I was able to reunite with Aunt Ginny and my cousin Terry and enjoyed a family trip to Italy. It brought back the wonderful memories of my time with her in Spain. She regaled us with some remarkable stories of all her travels over the years.
Aunt Ginny you are now taking the most wonderful trip of your life, Godspeed. Thank you for the memories.
Your loving niece,
Lisa

“ Ginny was my best friend growing up. She was so innocent and was an honest, loving, kind and generous person – and always a gracious lady in every respect.
There will never be another person like her, and she will be greatly missed.

I am so glad that that we reunited, and I have the memories from our trip to Italy a few years ago with Lisa, Terry, Jennifer and Shelia. May God rest her soul.
With love from her sister-in-law,
Geneva Crisp

“ Sweet Virginia... we enjoyed many a round of golf together with Tom. And we fixed many a broken machine together as a team at Alumax. A woman with a bulldozer's worth of moxie, and a heart as tender as Spring time flowers. Grateful and honored she let me be her friend.

With tender affection...

“ Please accept my sincere sympathy. I first met Ginny on a Holland America cruise ship, the Amsterdam, in 2018. She was easy to get acquainted with and our group traveled together many times after that. Her positive personality was a joy. She will be missed.
